Newspaper House, Leek

Outside the conservation area but a significant building which contributes to its setting.
The intention is to create a new display area at street level by unblocking windows and introducing a shop display area.

No objection to the reinstatement of windows which have been partially blocked up at street-level. The thickness of the glazing bars and position within the opening should be informed by the windows on the top 2 floors. I am not exactly sure that the window detail replicates this so a condition will be required (notwithstanding the approved drawings) to secure joinery details, position of the window in the opening and to control details of the surround. Condition also a sample panel of brick cleaning.
