Comments: RE the houses opposite my home dose the council know that there is a water culvert that will run under all three houses. It is made up of three piles of stone one on each side and one on top then covered with soil the depth of soil is on deeper than 18 inch does this mean that the footings of the houses will cut through the culvert or wont the footings be that deep.

I would like to ask the council to look at where my drains run as it is possible that it will run under one of the houses as we do not wont problems with our drains as we are connected to the old salt glazed drain this was the first drains to come on to Brown Edge and there were not as many properties so the pipe is only small we are hoping that you have a good look at my concerns Thank You For Your Time.
