Comments: This composite front door is unfortunately not in keeping with the victorian character of the property. The property is also now included in the conservation area and as such every effort should be made to preserve it's natural beauty and original or like fixings. If the original door was beyond repair, it should be replaced like for like or at least use traditional materials utilising a skilled craftsman to enhance and bring back the period feature of the frontage. If this application is granted it will most definitely set a precedent for others to do the same and the conservation efforts will be lost.
