Comments: I do not object to the planning but I have concerns regarding the bordering hedge. On the plans it shows 2 established trees bordering my property, these trees were removed when the land was cleared, if these trees were to be replaced they would block light from my property.Also, is the bordering hedge to be retained between our properties? The plans only state that the hedge at the back will be retained, not the side hedge. I presume that the property will not have a garage built at the present time as this is not on the planning application.
