Comments: Dear Sir or Madame,

I have been informed by my neighbour the Eaves Farm are applying for a god boarding licence and I wish you to know that my Farm, which is a livery stables would be greatly affected by the possibility of dogs barking all day. This would destroy my hard work and most likely my business considering I currently pay in access of £1,800.00 on rates.

The new owner at this property also owns a property in werrington where there is a boarding facility and no immediate properties encroaching that are effected.

I would also like to add that in my personal opinion there is not a need for this business as there are several similar services in close proximity.

My I also add myself and my wife are an alderly couple and have only been made aware of this application due to family members and neighbours. There has been no notice or signage provided and we would otherwise be unaware and unable to share our objections if it weren¿t for our grandaughter.

Regards,

Ron and Beryl Newman
