From:
Sent: 14 May 2019 12:19
To: Planning Comments (SMDC)
Subject: Comment Received from Public Access

Application Reference No. : DET/2019/0008
Site Address: Land Adjoining The Common Common Lane Dilhorne Staffordshire
Comments by: Debbie Harrison
From:
Far Rownall Cottage
Rownall Road
Rownall
Stoke on Trent
Staffordshire
ST9 0BT
Phone:
Email:
Submission: Objection
Comments: Application number DET/2019/0008

Proposed new agricultural storage building

I OBJECT to this application for the following reasons

These public footpaths that run through the proposed development field are used frequently by many people at all times of the morning, day and evening. It is a renowned much loved dog walking area, not just by local dog walkers but also by walkers from afarthat travel in cars to come to this beautiful location. I feel that storage of heavy farm machinery could potentially be a danger to the public and their animals and I am concerned this could possibly have an effect on the dog walking community, myself included.

There are no buildings in the immediate location. Whilst not forming part of a traditional recognised farm yard arrangement the building will be seen in isolation as there are no other buildings next to it for it to blend in. This proposed development is toolarge in size, It is very large and high in comparison to any other building. This agricultural buildings design and appearance is disproportionate and will dominate the beautiful landscape, it will be visually intrusive and incongruous form of developmentwithin an open and visually conspicuous green belt location.

I have to question if all the plans have been submitted to show all the sizes and locations of all parcels of land for this to be classed as permitted development.

I hope you will consider my concerns on this planning application.

Regards

Miss D. Harrison