I would like to express an opinion on the planning at 142 Ashbourne road. My parents live at 138 Ashbourne road. I have seen the plans and I am concerned about a dwarf wall that will go along the side of my mum and dad's property. Burnie is planning on having a raided border which I am sure will create damp in the house. They already struggle with damp due to the things he has put in that position and has made it difficult for them to maintain their property for example when wanting the pointing done. Burnie already reverses out on to a busy road on occasion I hope this is to stop this as he could nock someone over. He has been very fortunate that this has not happened so far. I hope this has been of some help with making your decision. Many thanks Lorraine.
