Comments: The site is a disgraceful untidy mess.The visual impact has been devastating for the occupants of the houses that back on to Adams Meadow. The area has changed from a very old orchard abundant with Fauna and Flora to an area of devastation.

Images 7 & 8 have descriptions stating that it is grassed over hard standing and existing hard standing. The hard standing has never existed that far over to that part of the land. As per the images you can see that this area has been used for dumping brick ends and rubble etc.

Does the size of Adams Meadow and the amount of livestock warrant so much storage and so many varied types of materials? Is it really suitable to pile things behind people¿s properties? I hope that you will consider these points when coming to any decision.
