To Whom it may Concern,

Diane Bostock has been associated with Cheadle & District Animal Welfare Society for over 30 years. In that time she has cared for many dogs helping to rehabilitate them following the various traumas they have experienced. In recent years she has accommodated older dogs giving them a retirement home where they have received great understanding and exceptional care.

Diane is experienced in the care of a variety of animals and has a great rapport with them, quickly gaining their trust. They have a respect for her and she for them.

Allowing Diane to build a shelter for ponies will enable her to help more animals in great need of care and attention, relieving those animals of their suffering and giving members of the public peace of mind that the animals they have seen in distress will be cared for with compassion in a caring environment.

I strongly support Diane's application for a shelter for ponies and feel that this can only do good for the community.

Your faithfully,

Mrs M Russell
Secretary
