Comments: This property has already gained extra land from the turning circle of our private road (which we all have a responsibility to maintain) by the former owners of 51 who took extra parking space off the road. The new owners of 51 have now erected a high fence between themselves and property 49 but have curved the fence to include the extra driveway which now has taken land from 49. The new owners plan to gate this land which will reduce the turning circle even more for the rest of the 4 buildings. numbers 49 51 53 and ourselves 47. We will now be subjected to people using our ungated driveway to turn their cars around which will be unacceptable. The new owners 51 plan to tarmac the land that they have taken from 49 to provide them with extra parking space.This is unnecessary and un-neighbourly.
