Comments: In principle, the Waterhouses have no objections to the plans to have the touring caravan plots, however, they would like to make the following suggestions for consideration:

- The Parish Council would prefer the site of the hard-standing for the additional plots to be further down the field, where the land is lower and therefore less visible from the road and from neighbours. If the site could be moved to a less visible location as suggested then the Parish Council would be happy with the plans for the additional 15 plots.

- If the site will not be considered to be relocated, then the Parish Council would only recommend an additional 10 hard-standing plots to be authorised, due to the visual impact on the surrounding area.
