Comments: After viewing the planning application for this house I feel that the size of this house is very large and imposing for the area and this house will not be in keeping with the semi rural location that I chose to live in if I wanted to live on a new estate I would Have purchased a property on an estate with no trees and for alot less money than I paid for my house ! am outraged by the cutting down of every single tree and fear the size of this building will cut out so much natural light and be extremely imposing
