RE: ALTERATIONS TO AGRICULTURAL BUILDING
SITE REF: MR. D. ARNOLD, FOXBANK COTTAGE,
CHURCH HILL, OAKAMOOR, STOKE-ON-TRENT. ST10 3AL
AGRICULTURAL HOLDING NO. 37/029/0009

CONCRETE BLOCK WALLS ON PART OF THE EAST SIDE AND SOUTH GABLE END, AND SLIDING DOOR ON SOUTH END AGRICULTURAL SHED (PERMISSION NO. 08/01556/FUL

We enclose completed forms Application for Retrospective Planning Permission for the above alterations, for the following reasons:

We did not realize at the time that we needed permission to do this work, for which we apologise, but we think that it is the best way of using this shed for a number of reasons.

The implements, tools etc. would be out of sight of people across the river, so would be more security wise and a better environment for servicing / maintaining the implements etc. as some of the tools, chainsaws, welders, etc. needed for this are quite expensive and need to be locked up.

When any of the cattle need to have a vets attention, we need to be able to put them in a warm, dry enclosure in which the vet can attend and treat the animals, to be compliant with DEFRA rules. Also, any medicines, injections etc have to be kept in a locked cupboard.

The old wooden shed which we have been told has to be removed, already has a concrete foundation which would be ideal to be used as the entrance into the new shed to save encroaching on further grassland.
