Submission: Objection
Comments: My objection is based on the following:

These are not historical or existing brindle paths. There is no shortage of riding opportunities in The area for example The Macclesfield Forest bridle path, the Monsal Trail and the Pennine Bridleway are all reasonably close.

The disturbance to the bird life including barn owls and the mammal life notably red deer present on what is currently an relatively undisturbed piece of land.

The area can comfortably and safely be enjoyed from Stoneyfold Lane without the need to further disrupt an area which provides something of a sanctuary in an area already extensively used by many visitors.

The land is working sheep and cattle farms who already welcome Young people attempting the Duke of Edinburgh Awards but have genuine concerns about the brindle pathway providing access to off-road motorcycles and other recreational vehicles, the health, safety and security issues of livestock and heavy, expensive farm machinery and their and their grandchildren's security and privacy.
