I have received a letter about a neighbours planning application, I have concerns about this application because I'm currently not overlooked which was one of the reasons I've recently bought this property. The planned extension would be right at the bottom of my garden overlooking my bungalow. As it stands at present the bottom of my garden has no structure only the garages they have which is not in my site. I have tried to view this application online but it doesn't show the exact intention of the build. I would like to raise my concerns and to have a look at this application if possible. I currently have a good view where this build is intended but my main concern would be that it would completely change the fact I'd be completely overlooked which I'm not comfortable with. Kind regards Nicola allen-Hill
