Comments: I support this application. This is a genuine planning application submitted by a family whom have links to the village of Foxt since the 1950¿s. The application is not driven by profit, but a genuine need by a young family.

There have been several planning applications passed in close proximity of this application. The site nestles close to other properties, without being obtrusive.

Entrance to the site is clear, services are within easy access.

Over several years there has been a continual decline in young people living in rural villages, mainly due to the unaffordabllity of homes, many villages are populated by an ageing population, in due course this has led to the loss of many services. Villages need young people to bring footfall and money into the economy.
