Submission: Objection

Comments: The plot is 13.200 mts by 23.00 mtds as drawn on lay out, also the drive is not correct. Where plot is dug out, no support has been put in place to hold the side back & left in a dangerous manner. While digging out broke into a spring which has been running on the right side since then 2013. Also when the spring started running on the left side & down the drive for several months we had the environment to look at it but they couldn't do anything. The measurement between the retaining walls is 12 mts this property is too big for this plot. Where is the scaffolding going to be erected round this property (if used)
