

1. A full planning application is to be submitted to convert the stone barn attached to the farmhouse into a dwelling.
2. A prior notification application is to be submitted for the conversion of the agricultural buildings into 4 dwellings.

Access to the farmhouse is to remain as existing. The access drive to the south of the farmhouse leads to a yard, where access is gained to the existing garage.

Shall include a mixture of the existing concrete yards where left undisturbed, angular stone chippings and blue brick paviors as annotated.

Subdivision of plots is to be undertaken with the introduction of a mixture of stone walls and timber post and rail fencing.

The site is to be cleared of all redundant farm equipment. The existing concrete yards are to be broken up where not required and surfaced as noted.
