I am writing with regard to the above as I am concerned about where I and other neighbours will park our cars. I live at 132 Ashbourne Road, mine is one of a row of four terraced houses, we don't have drives and although we could park on the pavement it is I believe illegal, or as there are no double yellow lines on Ashbourne Road itself, we could park there, but I don't think it would be good to park on the main road either.

If the building of these homes goes ahead, where will I, my son who lives with me, and my neighbours be able to park? Even space on Pickwood Avenue gets used up by other people from Prospect Road and Fairview Road already as well as ourselves.

This is a real issue for me, and I am quite worried about what could be the result. The homes that are going to be built may have some parking but in todays circumstances it is likely that a household will have two or more vehicles. Therefore the plans are not in my opinion providing enough off street parking.

I look forward to a response from yourselves.

Yours sincerely
