1. The triangle of trees at Eleven Lane Ends is in a prominent position, surrounded by roads and is part of the local landscape. It is a feature of this lovely rural area and although small in size, contains protected mature woodland trees. With the proposed dwelling, the site would look significantly different.
2. Regarding the proposed dwelling, this would not be in keeping with the surrounding houses and farms, many of which are of stone, some dating back to the 1800s or earlier.
3. One would assume that the proposed dwelling would not be the only disruption to the ecosystem of this plot of land. Noise and light pollution, parked cars and paths, etc. may also have a massive impact on the wildlife around.
