Comments: I live close to this bulding and I do not object to this application. I consider that the applicant has carefully considered highway safety with the choice of location of the entrance by siting it away from the bend. The design and construcion of the buildings appear acceptable. It is sited well away from the two dwellings that are closest to it. I do not think they obstruct anyones views and thus cause any loss of privacy. To my knowledge, the family are honourable people and I think it was probably an oversight that they did not apply for planning permission prior to building these stables.
