Kirk house, Alton

There is no assessment of the character or appearance of the Conservation Area and the contribution this site makes, nor the impact that this proposal is likely to have on that character and appearance (as required by the NPPF). This involves both the principle of development on this site, and the form and design of the building itself. This should be a FULL application to understand impact, especially given the proximity to several Listed Buildings (including the Grade II* Malthouse).

There may be archaeological implications in the historic core of the village – it's a complicated area with evidence of historic quarries and ancient tracks.
