Comments: I have reservations about the expansion of Advanced Proteins on the grounds of more air and noise pollution. The site will double in size. Another car park will surely mean more workers which means more output contributing to more air and noise pollution. The area being developed is just the other side of the trees which means the factory will be closer to our houses, will there be extra noise from the sealed tanks. The traffic noise is unacceptable especially between 10pm-7am. 30 lorries during the night=60 journeys = 1 journey every 14 minutes during unsociable hours. The lorries bounce and bang like rumbling thunder which causes sleep deprivation. More turnover will involve increased lorry traffic which will increase more noise, affecting quality of life relaxing in your own garden. Expansion will also cause more fumes and ash. My patio table is consistently covered in ash, we are breathing this ash is affecting our health. The smell from the factory has been unacceptable, although this has improved this past month. No amount of expansion will help when employees leave the doors open to the factory. This past month has proved that when all doors are kept shut there is no smell, proving that there may not need the above expansion.
