Comments: The land behind my house goes up a bit of hill, this will allow people to see over my garden and the back bedroom window from where there is proposed garden. The ground behind my property has always been field (Green Belt?), the plan states that existing fences are to be replaced but there have never been any where stated on the plan. I also feel that this part of the plan to create an extended garden is out of character with rest of the development. I have no issues with the main application
