Comments: This area is a small village space for the residents already living here. The high school is already over subscribed with the primary school following suit. The area is quiet and I feel having another 'estate' built in the area would be making the area less sought after over populate it. There isn't many shops in the area and that is what makes it homely. It's quiet and rural, it would end up with more streets, more people and more traffic which will put strain on the already busy main road at rush hour.
