Submission: Objection

Comments: Objection on the grounds of potential significant damage to local businesses which rely heavily on visitors to the Peak. The smell would make the area highly unattractive to tourists. Such a plant just being in the area is enough to put some visitors off. Sadly the number of local businesses which would be detrimentally affected would be high, which is something we are all extremely keen to avoid given the hardships the recent pandemic has ensured. Many rural residents and farmers rely on the income holiday cottages generate. These in turn support local shops etc.

In addition I am also greatly concerned about damage to the local wildlife from such a plant. For example, leaks into rivers and streams and heavy traffic use.

The edge of the Peak already has two such plants and it would beg the question as to why there is need for a third.
