Comments: I continue to object to the overall planning application. The infrastructure required for the number of homes being built is not adequate. The roads are incapable of sustaining the increased flow of traffic within the village. The original roundabouts would have been preferable to the new proposal of traffic lights as not only would they help with the flow of traffic more, the one within Cresswell would have acted as a traffic calming measure as drivers would need to slow down on approaching it. My concern is that drivers would increase their speed to 'catch the lights' to avoid being held up. Additionally, local schools and health care services are already struggling to keep up with demand and this would add further to the problems.
