Comments: Only two weeks ago, Open Reach came to do work in the road directly outside where the proposed site is. The workman had to park in a neighbouring driveway as there is no place safe to park and allow traffic to pass. He set up his safety barrier around where he need to uncover a manhole to work and when a vehicle came larger than a car, he was required to pull the barriers in to allow the vehicle to pass. I have video footage to share as I could not beleive how dangerous it was. It is not wide enough for two cars to pass at this point.
