Dear Sirs

I would like to register my concern about the planned MacDonald's Drive-thru Restaurant on the Churnet Works site in Leek. The fact that this development was not considered important enough to inform residents in very close proximity to the planned development strikes as underhanded if not immoral. The SMDC Planning should look to their standards. ^{My} objections are mainly the detrimental effects this development will have on environmental and social standards of living. These being as follows.

* The planned development is very close and is actually on land that has over the past few years established an outstanding and multi species presence of flora and fauna. MacDonald's should be ashamed of their plans in the current state of our environment.

* The increase of traffic and boy racers and litter will only add a detrimental effect to the overall environment with pollution and noise. The standard of living for all either resident or visiting this area will be sadly demolished.

* Staffing figures are grossly exaggerated and do not add up.

* Finally Leek has and is still establishing itself as a "Come to" charming market town. This development will not enhance the ethos of individual and independent traders so important to this image

Yours sincerely

ANN WATTS.
