Submission: Objection

Comments: Dear Sir/Madam,

Further to receiving notification of revised information, very little of which the general public like myself can understand, I would like to reiterate my strong objections to this proposed development, for the numerous reasons stated in all of my four previous objections. Whilst it appears as though some considerations re. site drainage have been made, I have no idea if they are sufficient and the rest of my objections remain unaddressed - namely being that the road is still too narrow, too busy and already too dangerous even before any additional housing. Please refer to my previous correspondence for further comments.

How long is the applicant allowed to resubmit plans before a decision is made? And if even the most comprehensive of plans were to be submitted, they cannot solve the road safety issue, so why is this proposal still being considered?

Kind regards, K Morris
