Comments: The eastern access/ driveway of twenty feet width has been in constant use since 1994 and for a hundred years before presumably. Until 2 years ago it was gated (using strengthened fence panels), then one gate and side panel was removed leaving a gap of about 10+ feet wide enough for all vehicles to access the cellar drop and delivery points and parking, if required the other gate could be opened. Some months ago they were removed altogether. A few more cars going to the house, sharing the wide driveway is negligible and won't be noticed.
