Comments: I live with my husband near the proposed field. When my husband is at work on nights, I have to walk the dog on my own and given what society is like nowadays, I feel extremely unsafe in the dark on my own. This field is very close to my home address and would be perfectly secluded and would make me feel, as a woman on my own, safer at night. At the minute I have to travel 7 miles to the field I use which isn't ideal when I'm only a 4 minute drive from this proposed field. I recently had an incident (12 months ago) that has left me quite shaken from being out with my husband, whereby a gentlemen chased us both whilst holding a knife. As you can imagine this has triggered my unsafe feelings of being out at night. I know the simple answer would be 'don't walk your dog at night then'. However, I enjoy walking my little boy and spending quality time with him after a day at work, and I feel this field will help build my confidence and do wonders for my mental wellbeing as I will still be able to walk my dog, and feel safe doing so.
