Comments: I have lived in this park home for the last 9 years and when I bought it there was no mention of building houses opposite me as I understood the land was GREEN belt. The thought of houses both overlooking me and me looking into someone's bedrooms is not what I anticipated even if a 10 foot high fence to block the view from one another the view of the country side is lost for good. I do hope you take my views into consideration when you have your next meeting.
