Comments: The idea of another eatery on Biddulph High Street is not a good one. I work locally and do hundred of miles per week around Biddulph, especially the town and high street with my delivery work. Traffic and parking is already at critical levels here, people frequently parkin on yellows, in the taxi rank outside the town hall and on pavements, due to lack of space. It's an accident waiting to happen with the junctions and crossings and poor visibility. The town gets extremely busy at the weekend and evenings with revelers and teenagers hanging around, more pedestrians will result in more risk of accidents and injuries from an already busy area for people and traffic.
