Comments: I write with reference to AES waste comments and would like to raise the following issues the residents currently face:

We currently have a substandard collection from AES waste with a very limited recycling collection. As of this week, our gates will be closed and there will be nowhere for AES waste van to turn around. A site visit may be required to complete a risk assessment, as the driver will possibly have to reverse all the way down a very narrow lane.

How can it be acceptable to have no comments about building more homes where you are already providing a substandard service, due to the narrowness of the lane?

DW completed a site visit on the lane last year and informed us that the lane was too narrow and the houses would have to take their bins down to the bottom of the lane. Now you are saying you will review when they are built? What is the point of that? You are being asked now if it is accessible. You are supposed to be highlighting any problems before they have been built, not after. Have you actually completed a site visit? Who is actually pulling the strings on this application? There is something very suspect and I will keep raising this until I get to the bottom of it.
