Comments: At last there is a point of reference for green change in the Moorlands! I strongly support this application. As a nursery school teacher, we try to teach our children how we can make positive changes to help our planet heal from the damages we cause. This will be hugely beneficial to our community and the upcoming generations will learn to act for change to hopefully see some results.

Generating energy without emissions is at the tip of our fingers if we can support forward thinking projects like this one.

Hopefully it will become something where we can take the children for visits so that they can learn how it works. It's a fantastic opportunity.
