Comments: I strongly object to this application, there are several reasons why.

Firstly, I have absolutely no faith in the company that has produced this application and it's supporting documents. In cases where they are supporting young vulnerable people, you need to be reassured that they are capable of that task. Due to the variety of mistakes in the application it appears that they have not completed their due diligence appropriately, clearly they don't care, so why should we believe that this will be run and maintained properly if they can't even get the application right.

Secondly I have young children who play in the park and on the surrounding grass area. No consideration is being given for the children and young people who live here already. It states that the house will be staffed 24/7, but what about when the young people are out and about in society, will they have someone with them at all times? I would not personally feel safe allowing my children to play in their own neighbourhood where a home for children with behavioural issues is proposed. residents who feel that the location was not appropriate for a children's home.

They raised fears of children already living in the village being exposed to anti-social behaviour and said that there were not enough resources near the proposed home. All noise and bad language will be heard and feel this is unfair to inflict on people, who have purchased a house in a family friendly town. Especially, as previously stated, I have absolutely zero faith in the company that are supposed to help them, when they put together a shambles of an application with no clear care about this small community, and therefore I have no faith that this would be managed appropriately.
