Comments: My first point regarding this application is the name of the site locations.

There is no such place as Sylvesters farm. The applicants are using the name of a previous farmer to try and confuse us.

We must assume that this shed is part of the grand plan to industrialise this area in the name of renewable energy. In fact I note that in the screening application for the solar panel "farm" this shed was within its boundary.

Why was it removed?

Why have previous planning applications been withdrawn days before they were due to go to council?

Applying for a certificate of lawfulness to eradicate all the planning "defaults" cannot be held to be acceptable practice surely? This makes a mockery of the planning process.

I strongly object to this application and ask that you refuse it
