Comments: Living on this quiet, family residential area, I am confused as to why any member of the planning authority or council would find this a suitable location for such dwelling. This neighbourhood is a quiet residential estate, and I wish for it to stay that way. Maybe, with so many new dwellings and housing estates being built in Cheadle year after year, surely the council could find a much more suitable location and have a new premises built for this sole purpose, where disruption would be minimal to neighbouring properties, as any new development seems to be approved regardless of the complete lack of infrastructure to support it anyway! I object to this planning application.
