Comments: It's sad that as a small market town a minority of individuals are trying to take something that does not belong to them. Having lived next to this field for 25 years never has it ever been open to the public. Those that admit to walking in this field are admitting to illegal trespass. The previous owner Mr Plant fixed and placed new fences around the perimeter of this field to stop walkers, unfortunately these were broken by said walkers. Mr Shuker should be able to do as he wishes with his farmland. I can't imagine the upset this is causing to his young family. Leave me Shuker and his land alone and use the designated footpaths and fields that are located within minutes of this location.
