Comments: The battery storage site it self is an unsightly development that can only have a negative impact on the surrounding wildlife. Whilst I appreciate you will have factored this in in your ecology report I do have further concerns.

Batteries are not a lifetime guarantee they will loose efficiency over time needing replacement, has this been factored in or will the site simply be abandoned after it's used is completed.

Whilst I appreciate as technology moved forward battery's will become more stable and safer the risk of fire cannot be ruled out. With the toxic fumes this will release it increases further concern for the surrounding wildlife.
