Comments: Destruction of greenbelt land. Once it's gone it's gone forever.

Agricultural land that is farmed at this present time. Gone forever

Grazing land for home grown lamb and beef. Gone forever

Natures back garden. Gone forever

Sound of birds drowned out by the buzzing of a transformer.

The huge amount of water required to put out a fire that is not able to be put out.

The toxic fumes that will fill the lungs of residents who live for miles around these batteries once they catch a light.

Nature destroyed forever!

Huge 40ft containers that will replace a meadow of grass and wild flowers that nature loves.

Insects butterflies animals all evicted from there homes.

Please read these comments and think of not just our futures but the future of your kids and grandkids. If you think replacing a natural habitat with metal concrete and dangerous battery's then we have no hope.

The noise pollution that the transformers for these
