Comments: Having grown up in Bagnall, I am acutely aware that the area in question is Green Belt - designated land that safeguards the countryside.

By developing this land in the way suggested, our countryside will be irreparably damaged - it will literally industrialise an area that has historically been agricultural land. Not only will the landscape be destroyed in the development of the BESS site, but the potential exists for the further threats to the area in the shape of toxic emissions and fire hazards.

I strongly object to these plans being approved and call for the preservation of our Green Belt, both for the here and now and for future generations.
