Comments: I'm commenting on the planning that I can not see what the issues are

.1 yes cattle were on the land but in a small fenced off area by the gate because you couldnt get any further because of the amount of scrap and rubbish on the site they were in 2 fiberglass huts surrounded by lorry tyres that caught fire one night

2. Flooding on Moorside farm I grew up on the farm with family there was a chamber that took water from a natural spring that went to a well that was in the garden and then in to a small pond down the field that I believe has been filled in I had been on the farm for 25 years and have never known it flood there was a very well established garden that has been ripped out and stoned up so if the chamber , well , or pond has been interfered with then flooding will occur

3. Traffic there use to be tractors , trailers , lorrys , 7 days a week most weeks so a couple of small vehicles coming in and out come on that's a lot of better for the lain than lorrys and equipment day in day out ih has alot better access than some places up the lain

4.reading through the comments there's at least 2 people that have told me how much better it looks and better than the dumping ground it use to be and what nice people they seem

But can't say anything nice on here

5.as for flooding due to the waterproof membrane that somebody's on about that will be the same stuff as you put under your gravel on your drive it's let's water through and is used as a barrier to stop material or weeds coming through is also used on horse ariners

6. And as for travelers and gypsies are they not people like us seems a bit racist if you ask me they are the most polite straight people up that lain
