

1. Facing northwest towards pods with P1 in the foreground. Each pod will have a partially-covered external decking area for guests to spend time outdoors and enjoy their natural surroundings.

2. Looking south towards pods with P4 in the foreground. A 15-metre native planting buffer between the ancient woodland and pods will ensure the important woodland habitat will be protected.

3. Looking southwest towards all pods. The remainder of the field will be allowed to 'rewild' with enhanced meadowgrass to improve biodiversity and create a beautiful natural environment for guests.

4. Facing northeast from existing access track and public right of way. Pods are at a lower elevation so views across the landscape will not be obstructed.
