Comments: I'd like to support the above application.

The old NHS Werrington clinic has been vacant for over 10 years. In recent years the clinic has fallen into a state disrepair attracting anti-social behaviour and vandalism. Due to the current state of the building, this will no doubt be having a negative effect on the house prices of surrounding dwellings and not to mention the visual impact of the abandoned clinic for the occupiers of the properties living opposite.

Once demolished, it'll be nice to see someone is redeveloping a brownfield site instead of destroying the greenbelt.

On street parking is and always has been issue with residents parking on the street even if they have their own driveways and also people parking that don't live on Salters Close. In my opinion street parking is not reason to object to an application that will add value to, and improve the area.

The alternative will see the clinic further decay and continue to blight the area.
