Comments: I support this application.

Pigs need shelter to escape the weather conditions - rain, wind, and cold to prevent illnesses. They require dry, and draft-free shelter which is essential for their health.

We should support local farmers/landowners and their animals. There are lots of stables/field shelters approved in the area for horses, cattle sheds for cows and pigs should be entitled to some shelter too.

The pig sty will be in keeping with other livestock shelters and farm buildings in the area.
