The Parish Council considered the application and noted concerns regarding the close proximity of the proposed development to the rear boundary. It was acknowledged that the design incorporates lower-level windows and glazing to the side and principal elevations, with all rear glazing set at a single level. Councillors also noted that the side elevation is unusual in its orientation, facing towards Leek Road.

It was recognised that the Local Planning Authority will assess the impact on neighbouring properties, including amenity considerations. The inclusion of high-level and rear windows was discussed, and it was felt that the overall design approach would be acceptable from an aesthetic perspective, subject to appropriate boundary and overlooking considerations.

Resolution:

The Parish Council resolved to raise no objections to the proposal.
